

Saturday 27 September, 2008 from 9:30am to 2:30pm at NCERD Complex, 3 Battery Road, Kingston (west of Le Meridien Pegasus).

All members of the public are invited - students, teachers, people who know a lot about computers, people who know nothing about computers to learn about Free and Open Source Software. Admission FREE

Presentations :

10:00 to 10:15	What is Software Freedom, and implications for Guyana
10:30 to 11:10	Introduction to Ubuntu, a popular distribution of Linux for human beings (as opposed to nerds and geeks)
11:15 to 11:55	Using Mediawiki to produce an online Guyanese encyclopaedia , Guyana Wiki (http://www.guyanawiki.org)
12:00 to 12:40	Using Moodle to deliver education online in Guyana
12:45 to 13:25	Security issues and Linux
13:30	Using Drupal to build dynamic websites

While stock lasts, there will be free distribution of the TTCS OSSWIN CD - a CD of over 100 free and open source programs for Windows produced by the Trinidad and Tobago Computer Society (<http://www.ttcsweb.org>) and the Ubuntu CD (<http://www.ubuntu.org>) a popular linux-based operating system bundled with many applications

